Biography

With a degree in history and a diploma in journalism, Colin began his career editing for a number of Canadian publications before joining the Canadian Nuclear Association (CNA). Here he held a number of senior roles before taking on the position of Director of Publications & Research during which time he gave all media interviews for the CNA, designed and managed a large expert research programme and led important lobbying activity. Colin has also held the role of Chief Financial Officer at the CNA and has authored a number of publications, including the Nuclear Canada Yearbook between 1995 and 2010.

To register to attend a presentation, or to find out more information, please contact events@nuclearinst.com or your local branch of the NI.
