

Nuclear Frontiers: Moving decommissioning forward through R&D

15 January 2019 - University of Bristol

Join scientists and engineers that are delivering research and development for decommissioning and waste management in the UK and abroad.

Our annual showcase for R&D is attended by a broad range of delegates, including senior figures within the UK civil nuclear industry. Learn about the mission, build contacts, collaborate on ideas, and challenge the status quo.

Topics covered include site remediation and decommissioning; characterisation, treatment, packaging, conditioning and disposal, waste management and storage; and land management.

Research Frontiers is a free event, run in collaboration with NDA and South West Nuclear Hub. Please register for a ticket at:
